Sophie, Ananda, Jack and Dan visit Bristol Zoo. Read the text and follow them on their way through the Zoo. Put the numbers next to the picture to show where they go first, second ...

There is one example(0)

On a sunny Saturday Sophie, Jack, Ananda and Dan go to the Bristol Zoo. They buy their tickets and a map which shows them where they can find the animals.

Ananda likes lions and tigers and so they go there first. Then they go to see the snakes and crocodiles. Dan likes them very much but Sophie doesn't. It is very hot in the house with the crocodiles, so the four go outside again. They decide to see something cool: the penguins. Most of the animals are standing around their pool but some show how well they can swim.

After that the children go to see the monkeys. The Zoo has some gorillas and some chimpanzees. When Ananda, Sophie, Jack and Dan see the monkeys eat some bananas they notice that they are hungry too. They go to the restaurant to buy some chips and hamburgers.

After that they go to the cages with the birds; there is a speaking parrot, many noisy budgies and many other exotic birds.

They have seen enough animals for today but before they leave, they go to the playground.
